Soviet Boss Replies To British Message

West Allies Offer Plan On Checkup

Propose Inspection To Prevent Attacks By Ground Forces

By K.C. THALER
GENEVA (UPI)—The West offered a 20-page plan on ground and air inspection today to guard against any surprise attack by land forces.

The proposal expanded on previous Western ideas for inspection by electronic and other technical devices to check against surprise attack. The Soviet bloc argued that ground and aerial checks were enough, so the present deadlock continued.

The proposal was presented at a 90-minute meeting of the surprise attacks conference by Gen. Sir Robert Mansergh of the British delegation.

The plan set out in detail means of ground inspection and aerial survey to spot troop concentrations and mobilization build-up for a possible surprise attack.

SUICIDE DEADLOCK
It followed the West's earlier proposals for similar inspection schemes to warn against a sneak attack from long range bombers and intercontinental and intermediate range ballistic missiles.

Experts made it clear that only a combination of all these inspection and spotting measures, and perhaps others aimed at naval offensives, would offer an effective overall warning setup against surprise attacks.

The Soviet bloc argued at the conference today, however, that the ground and aerial inspection of land forces was sufficient to detect surprise attack intentions.

The conference ended its fourth week still in deadlock, with no immediate prospects of a solution. It adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Monday.

Drafting Treaty
Meanwhile, Western and Soviet experts began drafting a nuclear test ban treaty at the parallel conference here, but East and West still were split on the fundamental issue of controls.

The drafting party met in the Palais des Nations to draw up the preliminary articles of a treaty which would commit the signers to a nuclear test ban and an obligation to cooperate with a control organization.

The scope, powers and responsibility of the control group, however, remained the center of disagreement between the Soviet Union and the two Western atomic nations.

U. S. Pilot Held By Reich Reds
BERLIN (AP)—East German Communist police have taken into custody a U. S. Army pilot whose plane made a forced landing on the territory of the satellite nation, an East German official disclosed today.

The pilot presumably is 1st Lt. Richard Mackin of Washington, D. C., who disappeared Wednesday while flying a courier plane near the border between East and West Germany.

The East German official reached by telephone at the border town of Sonneberg said as far as he knew the pilot was unharmed.

Russians Celebrate 'Constitution Day'
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union celebrated the 22nd anniversary of its Constitution today by asserting that Russia has genuine democracy but the capitalist countries don't. All Moscow newspapers carried editorials praising the Constitution, which says "freedom of speech, press, assembly, street processions and demonstrations" are guaranteed.

Cyprus Issue Peace Parley Moves Fizzle

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U. N. efforts to launch peace talks for Cyprus fizzled today after a compromise plan failed to muster enough votes to secure General Assembly approval.

The 11-nation Political Committee voted on three rival proposals late Thursday night after a confused procedural wrangle that consumed two weeks of debate on Britain's crown colony in the eastern Mediterranean.

The only resolution to escape defeat was a much-amended Iranian proposal approved 31-22 with 28 abstentions. This was still short of the two-thirds majority needed in the Assembly.

The resolution called on Greece, Turkey and Britain—the nations disputing the future of Cyprus—to negotiate their differences. The Iranian plan was virtually doomed when Greece announced in advance that she would vote against it.

The committee defeated 17-17, with 47 abstentions, a Colombian plan for a U. N. study group to visit Cyprus and study the situation. It also rejected 11-22, with 48 abstentions, a Belgian proposal calling on the three nations to keep trying for agreement.

Four other resolutions, including a Greek call for U. N. approval of independence for Cyprus, were withdrawn.

The vote came after a day of heated debate which included a slashing Greek attack against the United States.

Noted Inventor Leaves Estate Of 200 Million
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The late Charles F. Kettering, automotive genius and former General Motors research head, left an estate conservatively estimated at a little more than 200 million dollars.

Most of this huge fortune in the form of shares of C. F. Kettering, Inc., was divided between the Kettering Foundation and a separate philanthropic trust. Details of the division were not disclosed in the will filed Thursday in Montgomery County Probate Court.

Kettering died Nov. 25. The exact size of the estate will not be known until an inventory is taken.

Odd Accident Brings Sight

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Marie Therese Merviel, totally blind for 18 years, has recovered partial vision after being pawed in the eye by her guide dog.

The 54-year-old woman said the dog was lying beside her on a sofa. He jumped when the doorbell rang and his paw landed in her eye.

"Later on I realized I could see shapes and colors," she said.

Rocket Blast Kills Three, Four Injured

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—A homemade rocket exploded early today at a plant which manufactures missile fuel, killing three young engineers who helped build the device.

Four others were injured by the blast at the Callery Chemical Co. Two of them, both engineers who worked on the rocket, were critically hurt.

Dead were Charles Salles, 31; William Reynolds, 29; and Frank Wengryzn, 24, all former Pennsylvanians who lived at Lawrence.

Injured were Richard Wright, 26; Elmer Boyd, 38, both engineers; and two maintenance men, B. J. Leavitt and J. Longstreth, all of Lawrence. Leavitt and Longstreth were treated at a hospital and released.

R. G. Schmidt, manager of the plant, said the rocket exploded in a waste disposal area. It caused no damage. The plant makes boron, used as a propellant for intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Strike Called Against 'Star' By Guild Unit
WASHINGTON (AP)—Striking editorial employees began picketing The Evening Star early today in the first walkout against a Washington newspaper by members of the American Newspaper Guild.

Members of the Star Guild unit, claiming a breakdown in lengthy negotiations, voted 104-46 in a post-midnight meeting to strike rather than accept management's latest contract terms.

Wages and lengths of the work week were described as the chief issue in the dispute.

The Guild is asking an increase of $8 the first year, $4 the second and $3 the third year over the present minimum of $127 a week for reporters and photographers.

Rites For 28 Fire Victims Held In Chicago Armory
CHICAGO (AP)—Twenty-eight small coffins lay in a military armory today for last solemn tributes to the young victims of Monday's parochial school fire.

Black and purple draperies hung in the big drill hall and a portable altar stood at the front. There was no church big enough for the funeral.

The Most Rev. Albert Gregory Meyer, Roman Catholic archbishop of Chicago, will offer the Solemn Requiem Mass for the 28 children.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, will attend. The Mass in the 6,100-seat armory was not opened to the public. Families of the 28 children were given 150 tickets each to distribute among parents, relatives and close friends.

Students from all Catholic parochial schools will attend services in some 400 churches in the Chicago archdiocese.

Nineteen of the 28 will be buried in Holy Innocents Shrine, a special place for children in Queen of Heaven Cemetery. Burial for the others was planned in three cemeteries.

Four of the 27 children and three nuns who died when flames swept Our Lady of the Angels School were buried Thursday.

Lloyd Given Letter From Khrushchev

German Reds Make Threat To Prevent Airlines' Service

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today replied to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's personal message serving notice that Britain means to stay put in West Berlin.

The reply was delivered to Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd by the Soviet charge d'affaires, N. M. Roschin.

There was no official indication of the contents. It was understood, however, that it signaled no change in Khrushchev's proposal to turn West Berlin into a demilitarized free city.

Requested By Adenauer
Macmillan, at the request of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, sent a brief message to Khrushchev on Nov. 22 declaring the Soviet Union has no right to break any of the four-power agreements for the control of Berlin or Germany and that Britain intends to stand by her obligations to maintain a garrison in the former German capital.

Macmillan sent his message after Khrushchev's No. 10 speech demanding that the Allies leave Berlin. After the Macmillan letter, the Soviet Union made the proposal of Nov. 27 that West Berlin be made a free, demilitarized city.

Reich Reds Air Threat To Halt Plane Service
BERLIN (AP)—The threat of Communist interference mounted today against busy American, British and French airliners shuttling in and out of isolated West Berlin.

One of East Germany's top Communists, Politburo member Hermann Matern, told a West Berlin election rally Thursday night that the airlines—Pan American, Air France and British European Airways—have no legal right to fly over East German territory.

"This situation must be brought in order," he declared. He did not say what action the Communists have in mind.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who addressed an election rally in another part of West Berlin, said the Western powers would hold the Russians responsible for keeping open all routes to Berlin, including the air corridors. He said he had a personal letter from U. S. Secretary (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Union Heads Retain Jobs
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Raymond Cohen and Joseph E. Grace, accused by the Senate Rackets Committee of misappropriating about a quarter of a million dollars of Teamsters Union funds, have been re-elected to office in the powerful, 14,000-member Local 107.

Cohen, secretary-treasurer and actual boss of the local, was re-elected to his second five-year term by a large majority. It was disclosed today, Grace has been president of the local since 1933.

Before the Rackets Committee this summer, Cohen pleaded the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer questions concerning his handling of the local's finances.

Dixie Leader Raps Butler, Ouster Asked

Democratic Split Over Civil Rights Seen Underscored

WASHINGTON (AP)—The North-South Democratic split over civil rights was underscored at a party credential hearing called today. One Southerner called National Chairman Paul M. Butler a troublemaker and said he should be removed.

Butler's friends on the National Committee expressed confidence that Butler, who favors a strong civil rights plank in the party's 1960 platform, would ride out any ouster or censure move in a full committee session Saturday.

Butler himself told a reporter he had not heard of any formal move against him.

Today's hearing, before a National Committee Credentials group, was to receive rival claims of Camille F. Gravel Jr. and Jett M. Talbot to Louisiana's National Committee post. Gravel is the incumbent. Civil rights and party rules are involved in the dispute.

Committee Chairman Gravel was removed by the Louisiana State Committee because segregationist leaders in the party said he stood out of step with Louisiana's stand on civil rights. Gravel has said segregation is morally wrong but that as a practical proposition integration is not for Louisiana.

Gravel, who supported the national party's civil rights plank in 1956, has refused to step down. He is challenging the State Committee's right to ouster him and name Talbot in his place. Northern leaders support him on this, holding only the National Committee can remove a member between national conventions.

Both Gravel and Talbot were here for the meeting. It was the latter's counsel, W. M. Shaw of Homer, La., who attacked Butler and issued a brief saying National Committee members in his state are selected by the State Central Committee and serve at the pleasure of the State Committee.

Big Brush Fire Seen Controlled
MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Firemen hoped that with luck they might get control today over the big brush fire near here, now in its fourth day and 85 per cent contained.

Officials said 18,045 acres in the mountains above this movie colony had been charred and 29 houses and cabins destroyed. The fire fighting force was reduced to about 700, in contrast to the 2,000 who battled the blaze at its peak.

Princess Grace Displeased, Leaves Ball In Royal Huff
NEW YORK (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco gave high society a surprise sample of royal displeasure Thursday night—with abrupt flight from the dance floor.

Caught in a milling crush of spectators, guards and photographers at a ball in her honor, the former movie star made her sudden exit with lips set, chin high and trailing a slightly bewildered escort, her husband Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

A spokesman at the royal box explained moments later that the princess had found the throng just too much when someone stepped upon her white satin slipper.

The royal wrath subsided swiftly, however, and the girl from Philadelphia remained for the city's surprise sample of royal tableaux, and presided at the drawing of grand prizes for lucky ticket holders.

But although she smiled, she danced no more.

The incident highlighted a night-long barrage of adulation which started when the royal couple arrived for the chic fiesta in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Astor.

The $100-a-plate affair was the fourth annual Imperial Ball, sponsored by a motor company with the proceeds going to the Hospitalized Veterans Service of the Muslims Emergency Fund.

Moon Rocket Blast Off Slated

Army's First Shot May Be Attempted This Weekend

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A huge U.S. moon rocket—short on brains but long on brawn—may blast into space this weekend on a trip that could take just 34 hours, but might last millions of years.

It is the U.S. Army's first shot at the moon—and like its Explorer satellite shots, the Army hasn't spared the horses.

This is perhaps the greatest difference between the planned

Army probe and the last three shots by the U.S. Air Force, one of which reached as high as 79,000 miles.

The Air Force satellite weighed about 85 pounds. It was aimed at an orbit or at least a single trip around the moon. In its final stage it carried the electronic brains and maneuvering rocket to do the job.

The 30-pound Army shot is less ambitious. It too is aimed at the moon with the intention of hitting the lunar surface. But if all works well it may be destined for a greater glory.

The Army has packed its rocket, dubbed Juno II, with enough power and speed to overcome the pull of the earth's gravity shot, says it has a 1 in 2 chance of building up escape velocity—and so blasting away from the earth into a possible orbit around the sun.

Such an orbit might last millions of years.

This assumes first that all the moon rocket's engines will fire and that it will overshoot the moon.

The moon is not an easy target to hit. So many things are unknown about its mass and behavior that it can easily be missed.

Just as unpredictable is the behavior of the moon rocket itself.

The Army has kept mum on its rocket plans, because it said it doesn't want to occasion a build-up of public expectancy and the consequent pressure on its rocket people.

Pleasant Valley Club Installs, Names Groups

The Pleasant Valley Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Carl Wilson, Baltimore Pike, recently, with Mrs. Robert Altstetter, co-hostess. Mrs. Edgar Rephann, presided. The meeting was opened by reciting the Lord's Prayer and Homemakers Creed. The opening hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God" was led by Mrs. Earl E. Manges. The roll call was answered by each naming her favorite way of lighting for TV. A verse from the Bible was read by Mrs. Marshall Deremer.

The food bulletin on turkeys and cranberries was given by Mrs. Ambrose Miltenberger. Nutrition chairman, and discussed by the group. It was decided to have the annual dinner at Nave's Dining Room. A group project was prepared by fixing a food basket for a needy family at Thanksgiving, and one will be prepared at Christmas and Easter.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union for ever.—Morris.

Mature Question

QUITE POSSIBLY the least original thing one can say about Americans as a group is that they seem to be in a great hurry. That observation has been made by visitors to this country since the earliest days of the republic. To a remarkable degree, the point remains valid; Americans still appear to be forever in a rush to get somewhere or do something. There is one notable difference. The rather adolescent pride we used to take in this reputation for hustling has begun to give way to a less naive outlook.

INSTEAD OF always saying, "Let's go!" quite a few Americans are beginning to ask variants of another question, "Where are we going?" This is a welcome sign of our growing maturity as a people. When the vast energies of this people were called upon to span and exploit a continent, to lift a young nation to the status of a great world power, there was small leisure for asking, "Where are we going?" Besides, everyone knew where we were going, and "Let's go!" was the watchword. Now the time has come to consolidate our gains, to reflect on the way we want to go in the years ahead.

UNLESS WE DO reflect on the future and establish in our minds the broad course we wish to follow, we are in danger of being merely carried along on changes already under way. At this stage we have a choice. We must exercise it. Certainly we ought to maintain, even strive to raise, our living standard. Certainly we should preserve and strengthen the human rights which are fundamental to our society. Those are the foundations. What we build on those foundations, and how well we build, depends on our answers to the question, "Where are we going?"

Program For Space

EFFORTS TO penetrate the mysteries of outer space have thus far had about them an air of tension, of racing to meet arbitrary deadlines. This was in part due to competition between the United States and Russia. Another reason has been that the push toward space began seriously during the International Geophysical year, with its pressures to hit target dates within a given span of time. Now that the IGY pressures are nearly past, the business of probing space appears to be settling down to a less frenetic pattern. Though the element of competition with the Soviet Union remains, there is evidence that this country's space exploratory program is wisely going to be concentrated on sound attention to detail instead of on the rush to meet firing dates. This conclusion is based on word that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is planning a schedule of space probes to be carried out in sequence at the rate of eight to 12 annually. Each of these probes will be designed with specific purposes in mind, and it is expected that launchings will not be made until technicians are sure that all is ready. Such a program may sound rather tame, after the past year of hectic effort to meet firing dates. Yet this is surely the better way to reach out into the void of limitless space. It is an undertaking that will demand, not only the best of man's technological resources, but almost superhuman patience and forethought.

Discrimination

TAKEN AT FACE value, a report to President Eisenhower that complaints of discrimination in industry are on the rise might be disheartening. This report was made by the President's committee on government contracts, which was established in 1953 to end discrimination—whether on grounds of race, national origin, religion or for other reasons—in firms doing work for the government. When considered as a part of the whole five-year report, the rising number of complaints takes on a different perspective. It appears to indicate a growing awareness of the program, and that is most promising. On the whole, the committee report is optimistic. The program, it says, is "gaining momentum." The committee found "steady growth" of anti-discrimination activities in 1958, and was hopeful about the future. These findings are good news for all who believe that the American dream can best be realized in a society which grants all citizens equal opportunity in fact as well as in theory.

House To Probe Two Election Cases

WASHINGTON—Normally the United States Senate and House of Representatives alike are reluctant to interfere with the results of an election. The best possible testimony to the unusual character of the defeats suffered by the only two House Democrats to be beaten November 4 is that a House Judiciary subcommittee will make a thorough investigation of both races.

A last-minute flood of segregationist stickers took from Representative Brooks Hays, the peace-maker of Little Rock, the seat he had occupied with distinction since 1942. Hays had won the Democratic primary and his name had been duly printed on the party ballot in the place prescribed by law.

REP. COYA Knutson, of Okla., Minn., fell victim to an on-again, off-again "Coya come home" campaign in which her aggrieved husband has played a somewhat ambiguous role. He now admits that his famous plea was written by her Republican opponents, and presumably he is ready so to testify.

Dr. Dale Alford, a segregationist member of the Little Rock school board is the beneficiary of the anti-Hays maneuver. His attitude is that he did it and is glad. He plans to present himself here in January with demands for all the rights, privileges and emoluments that go with being a member of the powerful Democratic majority. Though he ran as an independent, Republican Odin Langen, who won Mrs. Knutson's seat by a margin of 1,300 out of a total of 94,336 votes cast, has so far said only that he waged a clean campaign.

THE SIMPLE circumstance that the Democratic House majority is so overpowering makes it possible to conduct the twin probes in an atmosphere of trying to win a seat the hard way in order to obtain legislative supremacy.

Nor are the legislators merely bent on helping a couple of pals, though Hays enjoys unusual stature and Mrs. Knutson, a relative newcomer, is popular and worked so effectively on farm problems that agriculture chairman Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina was the first member to spring to her defense.

WHAT THE Congressmen realized as the two stories unfolded was, in truth and fact, their own potential vulnerability to just such campaigns.

There are moderate Southerners in Congress and a substantial number who are as moderate as they feel they dare to be. It is true that in his Little Rock peace-making, Hays stuck his neck out more than most, but all Southern moderates know they could be beaten also if the stickler bill becomes accepted fact of political life in Dixie. Indeed, if it succeeds, it probably will so become.

THE PECULIAR vulnerability of women in public life to the attack on Mrs. Knutson has aroused the women associated with politics here and has apparently found an echo among the men. They know, too, that if the test of effectiveness should be a spouse's zeal for public office and its burdens, a great many male members of Congress would fall by the wayside.

The key figure in the outcome is Speaker Sam Rayburn; all depends on whether he is convinced the electoral process has been abused. His relations with Hays are close. Mrs. Knutson he knows less well, but Rayburn has long displayed for women in politics a loyalty and generous understanding above and beyond the call of duty.

Missile Gamble Pays As U.S. Makes Start

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Big gambles paid off handsomely when the Atlas intercontinental missile burned through space to its full range target area 6,300 miles away.

The gambles had to do with weight and control, inescapable difficulties in the long range missile field. In the case of the Air Force Atlas, the problems were solved uniquely.

Back in the late 1940s, when the Atlas was first projected by the basic contractor, General Dynamics' Convair Division, the weight hazard for an intercontinental missile with an atomic warhead seemed colossal. The talk was of something around one million pounds, driven by a whole cluster of engines.

ADVANCES into thermo-nuclear weapons drastically cut weight and guidance requirements. But the problems still loomed.

With all the weight savings from a switch to hydrogen warheads, the Atlas still was to be a thing of 300,000 components that had to be catapulted 600 miles high and to speeds around 16,000 m.p.h.

Here the first big gamble was taken. The engineers tossed out the idea of a heavy, rigid rocket cylinder to hold the missile's fuel supply. They developed a skin of stainless steel so thin the fuel tanks actually have to be inflated with air before receiving their infusion of fuel.

No one knew for sure how good that gamble was until, in one of the unsuccessful Atlas tests, the missile was subjected to severe stresses and strains. Gyrating like a wild cigar, it stood the gaff.

A 100-TON affair like the Atlas, first poised like a pencil on end, then moving slowly upward as its engines spew out thrusting gases, is hard to stabilize.

Especially at low altitude, aerodynamic forces lend little help in controlling the rocket.

The unique solution devised by Convair was the "swivel engine." The Atlas' huge engines can swing back and forth from side to side as the missile rises, imparting the twist and turn needed to keep it on steady course.

This was the second gamble.

Together these two plunges helped Atlas toward the successful firing over the full intercontinental range.

To get to the present point of progress, Atlas ran through 15 tests, nine of them successful. Though admittedly they had no background of rocket experience to draw upon, the Germans nevertheless needed 3,000 test firings for the famous V-2.

FOUR YEARS have elapsed since work on the current version of the Atlas was undertaken. Many more tests and a wide assortment of lesser problems still lie ahead. But when Atlas went the full range limit, it put the United States into the ICBM business with the Russians. No expert thinks this success means we've caught up. The view tends to be simply that we are now really moving to catch up.

We're not ready to match the powerful thrust of Soviet rocket engines (with twice the propulsive force of ours) which shot a 3,000-pound Sputnik into space. But the triumph of the Atlas makes some U.S. missile men feel that, even without that great thrust, soon we may be able to equal the Soviet feat.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—The invitations which come to a desk cover a range only slightly less ample than the distance between Bangor, Maine, and Angel's Camp, California. In one day I've received a card suggesting a meeting with George Oppenheimer, a fellow critic who has written a book, and it is on a Saturday, which for country-type people is awkward, so a note to George is indicated.

From the Helen Hayes Theatre, an addressee card to an afternoon memorial to Tyrone Power, and you make time for that. Never close friends, not even much more than bare acquaintances, it still true that you admired him as a man and an actor.

If you're a business man with appointments in the city, why would you hotel so far from town. But all of these must not be valid, for here they are only a year old and already they have had to add a million-dollar wing.

Frederick C. Othman

Light Lantern, Diogenes

WASHINGTON—For 54 years the Coleman Co., of Wichita, Kan., made a fine line of lanterns and heating stoves.

These devices needed no installation. A customer merely struck a match and he was in business. Then along about 1952 the firm branched out into a new-fangled trade called air-conditioning and its troubles started.

The machinery worked all right, the problem was to persuade the Sheet Metal Workers' Union, particularly in Chicago and environs, to bolt the pipes in place. The unionists were downright coy about touching this ironmongery.

SO PLUMP, bald Carl L. Burrows, veteran of 28 years in the lantern business and manager of the firm's Midwestern division, called in the late Louis Marks, his sales manager, to see whether he could persuade the union that those ducts wouldn't bite.

Marks told me he would require a little cash. Burrows reported to the labor rackets controller of Sen. John McClellan. "And I cashed a $2,000 check in Chicago and put the money in an envelope. On the street outside the bank I handed the envelope to Mr. Cronin."

CRONIN turned out to be Arthur H., president of Local 73 and international vice-president of the Tinsmiths. Burrows said that he and Marks gave Cronin a total of $27,000 in cash in envelopes.

A week after he slipped Cronin the final $5,000 in the cocktail lounge of the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago, Burrows continued, he was amazed to have the money returned to him.

"Did you learn later that an operative of the income tax bureau was in this lounge and ob-after all, there is any personal reward in perfection in a profession. Money is not an issue it is personal satisfaction that seems always awry and tormented.

One of the most noted novelists in the United States is a creature of vast unhappiness and dissatisfaction, a man rarely at peace with himself or his world. What demanding force first gives great talent to an individual and then exacts the harsh payment of emotional turmoil as the price?

A MAN CAME in to paint a dining room the other day because this reporter does not at this season in New York have time to do it. It was suggested that because two walls had an unbroken spread they could be sprayed.

"I don't spray," he said. "I'm union. We don't use anything but a brush. Spray is too fast." No comment.

Things I'll Never Understand: men with pneumatic hammers and drills have been digging a long, deep trench out in front of the office in 53rd Street. A few minutes ago they obviously pierced a water main and a huge jet of water is rising 15 feet into the air and filling the street. They all, from this window, look bewildered and as though Fate had done them a dirty trick. The subsurface of New York is a tight network of pipes and cables of all kinds.

ARE DIGGERS going down six feet or even less not provided with maps and blueprints showing where water and gas mains are, so that this kind of accident can be avoided?

To dig six feet down into a New York street without one is like conducting a heart operation without knowing where the heart or its arteries are located.

The street is filled with emergency vehicles, as well as water, and all concerned seem terribly agitated. Pumps are not at work and a man in a rubber suit is going down in the trench to try, probably, to cap the main. Some more of the taxpayers' money being used carelessly.

Reminds me of a thing about Southern Railway in the old days. They used to say that if a community had lost a cemetery it had only to ask the Southern to lay some tracks—they'd find it. Every time they put in a spur line they found a graveyard, long forgotten.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—Every now and then an idea developed by the military services turns out to be more useful in peace than in war. The average housewife, for example, doesn't know she owes a debt to Napoleon. But she does. It was Bonaparte's quest for a method of provisioning his troops on the march that spurred the development of canned food.

Another example was the aerosol bomb developed during the World War II. It is now used to spray everything from white wash to tooth paste.

A still more promising product is a new "fear gas" being developed by the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps. It already is strong enough to cause an alley cat to become terrified at the sight of a mouse.

IN TIME, SAYS Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, it may become refined to a point where, sprayed on a battlefield, it might temporarily paralyze the will of enemy troops to fight.

As it is now, millions of ordinary people are so nervous, upset, and afraid, that they meet every daily emergency by swallowing a couple of tranquilizer pills.

The pills don't rid them of their fears. They simply dull the impact of their fears.

How much finer your existence would be if, instead of a bottle of tranquilizer pills, you had a pocketful of small new aerosol bombs loaded with superstrong fear gas! Instead of having to calm your own fears you could make everybody else afraid of you.

ARE YOU AFRAID to ask your boss for a raise? Not with your trusty fear gas bomb. You merely walk into old Scrooge's office, spray him in the face—and wait for him to hand over to you the keys to the company.

Are you afraid of your wife when you sneak into the house at 3 a. m. after a losing session at poker? Simply squirt a few whiffs of fear gas at her, and she'll run in panic and lock herself in the bedroom.

Whatever frightened you before—supercilious clothing store salesmen, haughty waiters, threatening landlords, arrogant traffic cops—now quakes before you. The barrage of fear gas you spread around you don't breathe it yourself: turns you into a conquering hero.

It is a mighty dream. And it has only one flaw. If everybody brought a supply of these fear gas grenades and started tossing them around, then everybody would be afraid of everybody and everything else.

But what's to lose there? Isn't that about the present situation of the world today anyway?

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—This is a purely personal gripe, and please excuse me for inflicting it upon you, but I am so obsessed by it that I can't concentrate on the great issues of the day, such as whether the tuxedo Vice President Nixon was forced to borrow in London really sagged as sadly as reported. The thing that is so sorely galling me, as I center about the Capitol, is that the only senators I can find are soon to be ex's.

I have nothing against ex-senators, except that I feel they should be back where they came from, which is where they seemingly won't go. I know this is heartless, but the real blame, when you come right down to it, belongs to you. You don't want to read about ex-senators, which makes them rather unalluring column material.

There is probably nothing that cools off quite as fast as a former member of Congress. They have the same wit and charm as before, the same warm approachability; in fact they are usually more approachable. They look as composed, except for a slight tendency to tightness about the lips. They have the same opinions, which we used to press them to expound. But it is heart-wrenching how their newsworthiness has vanished.

THEY MAY SEEM to have won certain compensations. They can talk now without being misquoted. In fact they can talk without being quoted. They can hang around any lobby without being lobbied, and if one of those curses of mankind comes up and says, "I'll bet you don't remember who I am?" they can take half the bet. But they aren't genuinely happy about it, and neither am I.

I patrol the Capitol, but I can't find anybody but the ex's. They are cleaning out their offices to make way for the victors, who are decently staying away so as not to add to the embarrassment. But I wish the new ones would ignore etiquette and come in.

If I don't soon find somebody quotable to talk to, desperation is going to drive me back to Ex-Benson's press conferences on how the corn farmers really love him.

Without exception, every defeated senator I have encountered has said he has no plans for quitting Washington. Even the venerable Arthur V. Watkins, of Utah, told me he is thinking of staying here and opening a law office. This, of course, will fill a long-felt local want. What Washington has so needed is a law office.

I WANT TO GO on record as admitting that Vice President Nixon is a better, finer man than I am. If I had been going to visit the Queen of England and found my tuxedo missing I wouldn't have passed it off with a gay, forgiving, laugh.

I wouldn't have borrowed one and gone to the front door to admit the Queen. I would have said to the one I believed culpable—and you know who would be my prime suspect: "You go let her in yourself. I'm not seeing anybody."

I say that the Vice President proved himself such a miracle of husbandly forbearance he should be assured of the entire housewife vote for 1960. "It should serve to stifle predictions that Nelson Rockefeller has made Nixon shaky. There's nothing shaky about a man who won't tremble in borrowed dress pants."

The Vice President has been so unhumanly forbearing that Mrs. Pat Nixon now has plucked up the courage to accept part of the blame, whereas in London she tried to throw it on some nebulous non-packer. Mrs. Nixon has even recovered the courage to report that Queen Elizabeth found the episode violently amusing.

"The Queen just roared," said the Second Lady.

This offends my peasant's notions of the obligations of royalty. I don't think any foreign potentate has a license to roar at our Vice President's sartorial problems. (King Features Syndicate)

AWAITS SIGNATURE—The Allegany County liquor control bill, rushed through the Legislature under suspension of the rules, will be signed late today by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie when he signs the statewide measure. Meanwhile, fear has been expressed that it might be necessary to bring the state bill back before both houses because of a conflict between some of the more than 300 amendments which were placed in the bill before passage.

DEMO RULE ASSAILED—Contending that the Roosevelt administration is attempting to create a "dictatorship," the Republican National Committee in its second pamphlet in a month said the president and his cohorts are replying to critics within their own party with nothing but "epithets."

PROPOSE SEWER—Plans for the construction of a concrete sewer along the Potomac River as a Civil Works Administration project have been advanced by Piedmont officials. The cost has been estimated at $28,000 and some 80 men would be employed, town spokesmen claim.

WATER SHORTAGE—Elk Garden is nearing the verge of a water famine. Residents of the town report wells are failing right and left, while only a few buckets can be drawn daily from most others. The cause of the failures has not been determined.

VOTE APPROPRIATION—On the motion of T. A. Crass in Mineral County Court, it was ordered that an additional sum of $1,500 be appropriated from the county treasury to pay for concrete work on the abutment at Wiley's Ford bridge.

RAILROAD RUMORS—According to railroad gossip it is rumored that the B&O helping engines, used on the 17-Mile Grade, will shortly be returned from Keyser to Piedmont, where they were stationed for years up to last summer. It is explained that valuable time is lost in cases of accidents while waiting for an engine to be called at Keyser.

Keyser To Get Tractor Company

A spokesman for the Endless Tread Tractor Company said the firm has purchased a large building in Keyser and will move from the present plant at Short Gap. The building was purchased from Keyser Poultry, Inc., and was formerly used as a poultry processing plant for several months.

Since it was organized, the corporation has used a large former brooder house on Knobley Road near Short Gap as a plant. It is not known when the plant will be moved to Keyser, according to a company spokesman.

The plant near Short Gap has employed up to 10 men at peak periods.

Some softwoods, such as long leaf pine, yield lumber harder than such hardwoods as the tulip tree and cottonwood.

Program Outlined For '59 March Of Dimes In County

The program for the 1959 March of Dimes was outlined at a meeting last night at the Allegany County League for Crippled Children office.

Louis V. Shinnamon, chairman for the drive which starts January 2 and continues through the remainder of the month, told the workers a similar program will be held this year as was done last year.

Collections will once more be made in the various schools, the annual Mothers March will be arranged, and coin containers will be distributed throughout the city and county.

Hugh A. McMullen is co-chairman of this year's drive; Victor M. Hebb will be in charge of the South Cumberland campaign; and Mrs. Elizabeth Nave is head of the Mothers March. Mrs. Nave will select a co-chairman to assist her in planning the march, for which dates have not yet been set.

Although no goal has been set for the appeal, Mr. Shinnamon said it is hoped that the approximately $9,500 collected last year will be met or surpassed.

UHF-TV Drive For Funds Opens

Peoples Community Television System, Inc., held a fund raising kickoff meeting last night at City Hall and numerous pledges were made to establish UHF-TV reception in the Cumberland area.

The initial pledges were made by Earl W. Sines, 810 Sunbury Avenue; Wilbert F. Bowen, Eastman Road; and Gilbert H. Minnigh, 214 Mary Street.

Loe Marple, president, presided at the meeting and introduced C. T. Callerton of Baltimore, a representative of the Sylvania Electronic Company. He spoke on the idea of UHF for better television in fringe areas such as Cumberland and said that this method will provide better reception at a lower cost in fringe and blackout areas.

The group needs to raise $40,000 to install the towers, antenna and other equipment for the Cumberland area, and $60,000 to serve the entire area.

Other officers are D. E. Triebler, vice president; Albert Mason, secretary and Mrs. Charles Gurley, treasurer.

Bakery Workers Win NLRB Vote

Local 246, American Bakery and Confectionery Workers (AFL-CIO) won bargaining rights for inside workers at McIntyre Bakery, Westport, a company spokesman said.

The AFL-CIO bakors were opposed by District 50, United Mine Workers Union, in the consent election held by the National Labor Relations Board.

Results of the election are subject to ratification by the NLRB. Ballots were cast yesterday morning at the plant under the supervision of the NLRB.

Plans for the poll were made here recently at an NLRB hearing on joint petitions filed by the bakery to determine bargaining agents for inside men and driver-salesmen.

Local 453, Teamsters Union, which held bargaining rights for the outside men for seven years, asked dismissal on grounds the NLRB had no jurisdiction. The petition was referred back to the NLRB.

Christmas Seal Sales Lag Behind Year Ago

Sales of Christmas Seals by the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association are lagging behind those for the comparable period last year, according to Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary. Train Breaks Down, Blocks 3 Crossings

A mechanical failure in one engine unit caused a 133-car B&O Railroad freight train to block three crossings in the city for over an hour last night.

The train blocked the Harrison Street, Union Street and Baltimore Street crossings from about 6:55 p. m. until shortly after 8 before the train began to move again. The crossings finally were cleared at 8:07 p. m.

City police said at first it was believed a derailment might have caused a break throwing the three engine units into "emergency" and halting the long train.

The crewmen told police the engines suddenly lost their power as the train was pulling out of the Queen City Station. The diesel units came to a halt just before reaching the Frederick Street intersection.

B&O officials said the control air circuit on the engine "went down," locking the brakes on the entire train. With everything in the engines controlled by air, it was necessary for a yard engine to pump up the air in the circuit to release all of the cars to be moved.

The trouble momentarily was cleared about 7:30 p. m., but just as the train was set to move, the mechanical failure again locked the brakes, the B&O spokesman said.

The train, en route to Chicago, Ill., quickly moved from the station once the trouble was cleared here, the yard engine helping the diesel units until they reached Mt. Savage, where temporary repairs were made before the train moved on to its destination. The railroad company said the breakdown caused five major trains, two of them passenger units, to be delayed along the main line.

Trucker Held For Shooting Young Mother

BALTIMORE (AP)—James Patrick Keating Jr., 33-year-old truck driver, was charged last night with murder in the fatal shooting of a 27-year-old barnard.

Mrs. Mary H. Thilus was slain Wednesday night in a northeast Baltimore tavern. The gunman held off 50 policemen for 40 minutes before two officers talked him into surrendering.

Police said at one point during the siege, Keating fired two shots at them and shouted "Come and get me." Last night the defendant was accused of trying to kill the two officers who eventually persuaded him to give up.

Authorities say records show Keating spent two weeks at Springfield State Hospital after asking to be committed on last March 4 for depressive tendencies.

Keating was discharged March 21 and the following day he was charged with assaulting and threatening to shoot Mrs. Thilus, mother of a 2-year-old daughter. He was placed on two years' probation by Judge Reuben Oppenheimer.

Since his arrest, Keating has been treated at Johns Hopkins Hospital for a chipped bone in his instep. Police said his foot was injured when he vaulted over the tavern bar.

Government Owns Much State Land

BALTIMORE (AP)—The federal and State governments own a pretty good chunk of Maryland land. The federal government has title to 349 square miles and the State 292 out of Maryland's 10,577 square miles of territory. Forests and parks in Garrett County comprise a large part of the state lands—a total of 120 square miles. The figures do not include land owned by the State Roads Commission. Most of the federal holdings are used for military camps and storage.

Negotiations Attempt To Avert Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negotiations continued yesterday in an effort to avert a strike against the Washington-Mariboro-Annapolis Transit Co. Drivers at the employe-owned firm have voted to authorize a walkout if negotiations break down. Lester Pierce, president of the concern, emphasized that "we haven't broken off negotiations." The present contract runs out Dec. 13.

The bus line, which carries an estimated 15,000 passengers daily, provides service to southeast Washington as well as Prince Georges, Calvert and Anne Arundel counties. Senior drivers now paid $1.80 an hour are seeking a 50 cent increase, a company spokesman said.

Gov. McKeldin Changes Voting Residence To Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. McKeldin has changed his voting residence from Annapolis to Baltimore. The governor and Mrs. McKeldin yesterday registered with the Board of Supervisors of Elections. This was considered by some politicians as another preliminary move to McKeldin's filing for the Republican mayoral nomination. The deadline is Dec. 23. McKeldin, who was a resident here before he went to the Executive Mansion eight years ago, served as Baltimore's mayor from 1943 to 1947. The Baltimore City charter provides that a candidate for mayor must have been a resident of the city for the 10 years prior to his filing for election. The State Constitution also says that a governor must live at Annapolis. If McKeldin files for mayor, a court test might be necessary to determine whether the technicality on residence would bar him from office. The McKeldins, who vacate the Executive Mansion next month, have bought a home here. Farmers buy about 37 per cent of all tires sold in the United States.

Construction Worker Dies In Luke Fall

William J. Morgan, Cumberland, Second Accident Victim

The second worker in less than a month died in a fall this morning while on the construction project at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The victim was William James Morgan, 28, of Trout Avenue, this city, according to officials of Tidewater-Hazelwood, contractor on the Luke job.

Morgan, officials said, fell 50 feet from one of the upper floors in the new paper machine building to the concrete slab below and was pronounced dead on arrival at the Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Pouring Concrete

Morgan was fatally injured at 9:30 a. m. while pouring concrete. He apparently lost his balance, officials said.

The other fall victim in the past month was Richard F. DeWitt, 32, Morgantown boilerworker who dropped 50 feet from a scaffolding on November 10.

The company spokesman said Morgan was working in a crew that had W. C. Austin of Cumberland as foreman and Roy Layton and Ollie C. Burns of Bayard as the other members.

Officials said there were no witnesses to the accident. Morgan was using no tools or wheelbarrow. The accident report said his fellow workers noticed him one moment, and the next time they looked in his direction he was gone.

Mt. Savage Native

The crew was putting a curbing on the floor that was 20 feet wide and 228 feet long.

Morgan had been a laborer for Tidewater-Hazelwood since August 1957.

Born in Mt. Savage, he was a son of Thomas and Nannie (Scott) Morgan, Barreille.

Surviving, besides his parents, are his widow, Mrs. Jean (Riggleman) Morgan; a daughter, Carol Jean Morgan, at home; five brothers, David and John S. Morgan, both of Baltimore; Russell Morgan, Corriannville; Ronald Morgan, with the Army in Germany; and Thomas Morgan Jr., Barreille, and two sisters, Mrs. Quentin Gordon; Rawlings; and Mrs. Harry Gaeckle, Baltimore.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home.

Iser Moved To State Pen

Howard M. Iser, 27, city, who was recaptured last week after escaping from the Allegany County Jail, today was transferred to the Maryland Penitentiary to begin his 10-year sentence for armed robbery.

Iser was taken by car to the penitentiary by Chief Deputy Edgar M. Lewis and Deputy Sheriff Paul Haberlein. The prisoner was nabbed in Montgomery, Ala., by the FBI after fleeing the local lockup November 5 along with Robert C. Bryant, 18-year-old Westport youth who was held in a motor vehicle violation. Bryant gave himself up several days later.

Iser will probably be returned here at a later date to face charges of breach of prison. His case will probably be taken before the January grand jury and if he is indicted he will be tried in Circuit Court before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Mayor Keech said pamphlets and other data are being dispatched to the student.

Bids Sought On More Work At ABL Plant

Contractors To Submit Offers By December 30

The Navy's Bureau of Yards and Docks is advertising for bids on more construction work at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Rear Adm. A. J. Fay, officer in charge of the Fifth Naval District, said bids on the miscellaneous work will be received until 2 p. m. December 30 at the District, Norfolk Naval Base.

Miscellaneous Work
The work calls for miscellaneous building facilities and exterior services for three existing buildings.

It also includes additions, concrete work, built-up roofing, sprinkler systems, heating and cooling equipment, control apparatus, masonry, hoists, water, electrical and other incidental related work.

The estimated cost range of the group of projects is from $25,000 to $100,000, according to the release by Adm. Fay.

Additions Made
This rehabilitation work plus the additions is another in the series of construction jobs that have been undertaken at the plant which is operated by Hercules Powder Company for the Navy.

Recently, an addition was made to the office building. Other structures relating to the highly classified rocket research work have been built in the past year, or two.

Just last month, the Charles Tompkins Company of Washington was named subcontractor on Phase 2 of a new building program.

The bid of $1,886,322 was the lowest one received and the work is in connection with the Polaris project. The Polaris is a Navy submarine-launched missile.

Phase 2 consists of the construction of four buildings, with associated service facilities.

ABL produces, among other propellants, the solid fuel that is used for the third stage of the moon rocket.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, assistant recreation director, assisted by Mrs. Maxine Zehrbaugh, volunteer worker, is supervising the program. It will include a number of selections by the "Kingsleyaires" of Kingsley Methodist Church, whose appearance was arranged through John Bennett, a Christmas reading by Hattie Bergdoll and group singing with Mrs. Lawrence Middlekamp as pianist.

Holiday games will be played and jingle gifts exchanged. Ladies of the club are to bring home-made cookies and candies and decorations will be in the holiday motif.

Authorities Probe
Area Safe-cracking

Bedford County (Pa.) authorities are investigating a breaking and entering of a Breezeewood store from which a safe was taken before being broken open and looted. Approximately $100 was taken from the safe, police said.

The incident was discovered early Wednesday morning, and the safe was discovered later in the day by a band of hunters. The safe was broken open about 18 miles from the store.

Auto Accident Damages Sought

Suit was docketed in Circuit Court today by Zellene M. Golden through her mother, Julia E. Golden, RD 4, city, against John F. and Ruth Valentine, Mexico Farms as the result of a highway accident September 12.

The declaration, filed by James S. Getty, attorney for the plaintiffs, states that the Golden girl was a passenger in the Valentine car when it left the Mexico Farms Road and hit a sign post. It is claimed the girl suffered lacerations of the lips, a fractured nose and injuries to the area about the eyes. She required hospitalization and damages of $10,000 are being asked.

Final Okeh Given Local Street Work

The Bureau of Public Roads of the U. S. Department of Commerce has put its final stamp of approval on the Frederick Street improvements.

This was revealed today when City Engineer Charles T. Nuzum received a copy of the report. It was indicated the inspection was the final hurdle in the federal government's releasing of aid funds withheld from the State Roads Commission until certain requirements concerning the project were met.

The inspection was made October 28 by J. A. Richard, highway engineer, accompanied by George Gearty.

In the final analysis, it was pointed out the project complied with all terms set forth in the agreement and as amended in reference to parking and one-way traffic. Richard said as a result it was recommended the project be accepted.

Total cost of the project was listed at $517,119.05. It was started in 1954 and accepted by the city November 3, 1955.

Several weeks ago G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the SRC, had informed council that the project met all requirements and that he was so informing the federal bureau. Chaires' report followed city action in making both Frederick and Bedford Streets one-way and allowing parking on only one side of the two streets.

Deer Hunter Bags Big Bird

One deer hunter in Western Maryland got the bird, in more ways than one.

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, said one hunter bagged a 20-pound, six-ounce turkey and he was immediately placed under arrest.

Hunting of small game is not allowed during deer season.

Minke, who did not identify him at this time, said the hunter's turkey kill was the largest recorded this year by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Not only did he lose the prize bag, but he will probably be fined when he is tried.

Many Still In Business

After two days of legal sale of whisky, there was only one arrest for drunkenness in Cumberland. And that was a man who had some colored moonshine.

On Sunday, December 10, William R. Harvey, the "revenue" or federal investigator who was the scourge of the moonshining industry in this section, called for both "wets" and "drys" to aid enforcing the new law.

A list of the licensees contained in the Sunday, December 10, Times shows that many of the original permit holders are still in business in Allegany County.

The day of the speakeasy was over, along with its "hush-hush" operations. Home brew became a thing of the past, and the moonshiner was soon to lose much of his popularity.

"The noble experiment," as the Prohibition era was termed, ended and racketeers turned to other illegal fields for their operations.

'Hard Liquor' Became Legal 25 Years Ago; Area Waited

Twenty-five years ago today the sale of "hard liquor" was made legal in the nation, but Allegany Countians had to wait four days before they could buy a drink across the bar.

The end of Prohibition was not greeted with any great jubilation in Cumberland, according to the Evening Times of those days.

A bill sponsored by then State Sen. J. Glenn Beall passed in the General Assembly on Monday, December 5, the day the 18th or Prohibition Amendment was repealed.

First License To Hotel
But it had to be called back for some amendments, and when it finally got through the legislature again it was Thursday, December 7.

On the next day, Clerk of Circuit Court Lloyd Shaffer began the sale of 60-day "short term" licenses as provided in the bill.

The first license was obtained by Ivan W. Poling, for the Cumberland Hotel Company which operated the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, was the second applicant to be granted a permit.

The sale of "hard liquor" began shortly before noon, and by afternoon only a few additional places were authorized to sell legally.

Price Resistance
Beer had become legal for several months before the Prohibition of liquor ended.

There was not much of a rush on the Cumberland barrooms. There was a buyers resistance at first because of the high prices.

Then, the nation deep in a depression, "spots" of straight whisky were 25 cents each, and cocktails from 25 to 35 cents each.

A pint of liquor could be obtained from $1.70 to $2 and a quart about $3.50. Gin cost $2.25 a quart.

The Times stated that many confirmed consumers of moonshine would stick to their old reliable suppliers because of the prices.

Surviving, besides her husband, are a daughter, Mrs. Lucille Durratt, this city, two brothers, Edward C. and A. G. Mackenroth, both of Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. Arthur Bratzel, Beaumont, Texas; and two grandchildren.

The body is at the Silcox Funeral Residence where the family will receive friends from 7 to 9 p. m. today and from 2 to 4 p. m. tomorrow. Services will be conducted Sunday at 3 p. m. at the funeral home, by Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Church, and interment (Continued on Page 12)

Board Changes Payroll Period
On motion of Commissioner William A. Wilson and unanimously carried the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today ordered that the payroll of county employees be issued December 23 in time for Christmas.

The board received the reports of the two county dog wardens for November.

Mervin Hast, warden for the eastern section of the county, listed $262.50 receipts for dog tags, $28 for adopted dogs and board fees, 102 dogs picked up, 158 dogs destroyed, 17 dogs reclaimed and 17 dogs adopted. He traveled 1,161 miles during the month answering calls.

Burza Hanlin, the warden for the western area, listed $67.25 for dog tags, five dogs killed on highways, 108 dogs picked up and 48 complaints investigated. He traveled 980 miles in his work during the month.

John W. Brode Named To County Road Clerk Post

John W. Brode, RD 1, Frostburg, today was selected by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to become the clerk in the County Roads Department office at the Union Street County Building effective February 1.

He will replace Walter Fuller, who will leave office at the end of January. Brode's appointment was unanimous and it was pointed out he will work along with Fuller for several weeks prior to February 1 to familiarize himself with the job.

John H. Tressler Jr., of the Oldtown area appeared before the board to ask that he be named constable for that section. He said he had taken the examination and physical test and passed some time ago.

A letter from Magistrate Dayton M. Lewis of Oldtown was read in which he cited the need for a constable and requested that Tressler be selected. Commissioner John J. Rowan informed Tressler that the board would take the matter under advisement and a decision would be made soon in this matter.

The clerk to the board, James G. Stevenson, was instructed to notify the woman of the situation. It was brought out in the letter that the property has been in the family for more than 100 years. The Bradley woman also said it had been hoped to develop the property.

Commissioner William A. Wilson said the county was not interested in road projects simply to provide property owners with a roadway which would benefit private developments.

Young Hunter Shot In Leg
An 18-year-old hunter was shot in the leg this morning to become the first casualty of the week-long deer season.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital for surgery was William L. Jewell of 54 National Highway. Attaches said he was wounded in the right thigh. He was reported in "fair" condition.

Troopers Charles Snow and Bruce Diehl, who are investigating, said the Jewell youth was among a number of hunters who were driving a deer down off a ridge of Dan's Mountain in the McCoolle area.

Jewell was wounded when other hunters at the bottom of the ridge began firing at a deer. No charges have been preferred pending completion of the investigation.

Budget Needs Requested By County Board

Figures Must Be Submitted To Group By January 15

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners, with two Democratic members, today embarked on a new system of handling various county affairs.

Among these changes is one calling on all department heads to submit preliminary budgets by next January 15 in order to allow the board time to consider the various items in the budget request. Commissioner John J. Rowan, president of the board, said this would eliminate some of the last-minute decisions which occurred in former years and also would remove much of the load imposed on the Finance Department in handling the budget items.

Also requested today was an organization chart from each department head showing the number of employees, their responsibilities and how the chain of organizational procedure is followed.

The board will also ask for an inventory of the equipment and location of each piece by the Roads Department. Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, today submitted a list of each employee in his department with the names, addresses, phone numbers and their classification under the Civil Service Board system.

It was also decided to discuss with an official of the Welfare Board and clerk to the county commissioners the procedures followed in reference to financial statements and admittance to the Allegany County Infirmary.

The board today passed an order designating the First National Bank of Cumberland, The Liberty Trust Company, Second National Bank, Cumberland Savings Bank, Frostburg National Bank and Fidelity Savings Bank of Frostburg as depositories of county money.

Deer Giving Hunters Hard Time In Area

Deer hunters are apparently having a tough time on this next-to-last day of the season as four check points reported only 11 new kills until noon today.

Yesterday, Allegany County had 43 kills reported, low for the week, bringing the four-day total to 478. This compares to 492 on the fourth day a year ago.

The six-day record is 623, established in 1950.

Of the kills reported today, Lewis' Store at Oldtown had only one but it was the largest. L. K. Robertson of Frostburg, bagged a six-point, 150 pounder on Turk Hill.

Shipway's Inn, Greenridge, reported five. They included John R. Durbin, Baltimore, seven point, 131 pounds, Dick's Ridge; Isaac E. Brown, Baltimore, eight-point, 110 pounds, Polish Mountain; Walter Brown, Elk Ridge, spike, 99 pounds, Polish Mountain; Harry Meyer, Ellington, six point, 92 pounds, Polish Mountain; and Andrew Puckett, Elk Ridge, eight point, 135 pound, Polish Mountain.

City Police at Westport listed three kills, all in Garrett County, as follows: Edward Mayhew, Westport, seven point, 100 pounds, Meadow Mountain; Luther Metz, Barton, 138 pounds, Savage Mountain; James Slutz, Lonaconing, four point, 120 pounds, Savage Mountain.

State Police at LaVale, Barreille, had two reported. Russell Skidmore, city, bagged a seven point, 83 pounder on Evilts Mountain; and John Poland, city, reported a six point, 118 pounder shot on 15-Mile Creek.

Statewide, hunters killed 330 deer yesterday. This was 32 less than on the fourth day last year but the overall total of 2,650 is 18 ahead for the four days last year. Washington County reported 14; Frederick 13 and Garrett County 45.

The season ends tomorrow.

Schools Need Fund Aid In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Leaders of the West Virginia Legislature have agreed that more money is needed and legislation must be enacted to improve the condition of the state's school program.

None has indicated, however, where the money might come from or what new laws might be enacted during the 60-day session starting Jan. 14.

A comment by Senate President Ralph J. Bean of Moorefield, following a one-hour Democratic majority caucus Monday, indicated that some of the state senators may not be satisfied that counties have done all that they can to resolve their financial difficulties with respect to schools.

A few senators expressed disappointment over the comparative lack of county action, especially after West Virginia University Dean Estlin K. Feaster reported more than a year ago that West Virginia children apparently were getting something less than a second rate education.

Bean said Senate Democrats, in their study of school problems, would look into existing revenue potentials and the possible effects of the newly-ratified "better schools" amendment.

This may mean that rather than snap up part or all of the recently-proposed $15,000,000 a year school incentive program, the Senate majority may prefer to await the results of the amendment and the relatively new assessment equalization program.

Reorganization Plans For W. Va. Guard Scheduled

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Further plans for reorganization of the West Virginia National Guard will be made at a meeting here Dec. 14, State Adj. Gen. William E. Blake said today.

Under the National Guard reorganization approved by the Department of the Army, West Virginia stands to lose 12 of its present 45 units, Blake said (his would result in elimination of 10 units and consolidation of two with other units).

Guard units are now located in 31 West Virginia communities. Blake said the reorganization probably would mean relocation of some units in order to distribute them as proportionately as feasible over the state.

In one case, a strong protest campaign has been started over relocation of a unit. Fairmont officials have protested the projected transfer of the headquarters of the 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion from Fairmont to Huntington.

Fairmont Mayor William G. Meyer said letters protesting the action were being sent to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood, members of the Legislature and the state's delegation in Congress, and to Blake.

James Arnold, assistant Allegheny County farm agent in charge of 4-H work, is expected to attend the meeting. New officers will assume duties in January. Wesley Gordon is president of the club.

Missionary Conference Set Tonight

LONA CONING — An area-wide Missionary convention will open tonight at First Pentecostal Church here, according to Rev. Charles E. Fussell, pastor.

The convention is designed to outline the work of missionaries of the Assemblies of God churches, especially that work being done in foreign fields. Rev. Fussell explained. Throughout the series of meetings for the next three days, emphasis will be placed upon missionary activities and several missionaries, now home on furlough will be heard.

Tonight at 7:30 Rev. Arthur Vespa, pastor of First Assembly of God Church in Cumberland, will speak. He is considered one of the most mission-minded pastors of the area and is well known throughout Potomac District.

Tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Rev. Sidney Bryant, of Springfield, Mo., will be the speaker. He has served as a missionary in India for 28 years and has been district superintendent of North India the past six years.

A Saturday night feature will be a program of vocal music by a quartet from Keyser.

Sunday at 2:30 p. m. a rally will be held with a closing program and service at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Rev. David Scott, also of Springfield, Mo., who is a missionary to Chile and Peru, will speak at the afternoon and evening meetings and will also deliver the worship sermon at the 11 a. m. church service.

Scott first went to Peru in January 1947 under appointment of the Foreign Missions Department of the Assemblies of God with headquarters in Springfield.

The first six months were spent in language study. He then went to Cuzco, ancient capital of the Incas, where he founded an Assembly of God work. For five years Scott served as superintendent of the Peruvian Assemblies of God. He also served as district Presbyterian and national counselor of the Christian Ambassadors of the Peru Assemblies of God.

While in Peru, Scott and his family were in the Cuzco earthquake, went through an Indian uprising, and were imprisoned for a short time as a result of revival meetings being held there.

In 1957 Scott went to Chile where he served as president of the Chile Bible Institute at Santiago for one year. Prior to going to Latin America, he pastored in Glacier and Marblemount, Wash. He is a graduate of Northwest Bible College in Seattle, Wash.

At the conclusion of his furlough period, Scott plans to return to Chile. He is now visiting various churches of the Assemblies of God, presenting the needs of the work in Chile.

Woman Held For Murder

KINGWOOD — Mrs. Elizabeth V. Reed, 21, charged with the murder of her newborn baby boy, waived a preliminary hearing last night when arraigned before Magistrate S. W. Pitt. She was remanded to the county jail pending action of the March grand jury.

According to Preston County Prosecutor James T. Dailey, Mrs. Reed was not represented by counsel. In such cases, Dailey said, bond can be set only in a court of record. Judge Melvin C. Snyder in Circuit Court could set bond if it can be furnished and if the defendant would petition the court to do so. Otherwise, she will remain in jail until the grand jury takes action, he explained.

Mrs. Reed had been in a Kingwood hospital and was taken to the county jail yesterday afternoon, a few hours before the time of the arraignment. She was returned to the jail immediately after the hearing.

Mrs. Reed was arrested and charged Wednesday after an autopsy showed that the infant was born alive and had died of exposure after being tossed into a brush heap in freezing weather. The body was found the previous day by Sheriff C. S. Harriman.

The young woman entered the hospital Sunday, saying that she had had a miscarriage. The search for the infant started after they believed the woman had given birth to a child. Prosecutor Dailey said Mrs. Reed is the mother of a 20-month-old son and is estranged from her husband. She lived with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Hileman at Borman, near here. Dailey stated that Mrs. Reed told authorities that she threw the baby into the pile of brush.

Man's Excuse Gets Sympathy Of Court

LONDON (UPI) — Francis Evans, 42, arrested at London Airport for taking a siphon of soda water belonging to British European Airways, explained in court Thursday he only wanted the siphon for a couple of days. "I have a little brandy at home and wanted to put a drop of soda in it," he told the court.

The court apparently considered this a reasonable explanation and dismissed the case.

Back Injury Fails To Halt Robertson's Hoop Debut

By United Press International
Bad back and all, Oscar Robertson still is an All-American.
The 6-foot-3 University of Cincinnati star, who led the nation's major college scorers last season with a 35.1 per-game average, tossed in 45 points Thursday night despite a painful pulled muscle in his back to lead the Bearcats to an easy 88-67 victory over New York University.
Hardly anyone in the crowd of 12,000 that turned out for the first college basketball program of the season at Madison Square Garden was aware of the fact, but Robertson almost didn't play. And how he stood up under a severe battering by NYU's more rugged rear guards even was a mystery to Cincinnati Coach George Smith.
"Up until just before the game started, I wasn't sure if Oscar would be able to play," Smith explained in the dressing room after the Bearcats had gained their second win in as many starts this season. "He pulled a muscle while working out in the afternoon, and from the way it was bothering him, we weren't even going to let him leave the hotel."
Apply Ice Packs
Ice packs were applied and Robertson insisted that he would like "to give it a whirl," Smith said. "So who was I to stop him?"
And what a "whirl" he gave it. Oscar scored his team's first eight points and wound up the first half with 16 to earn Cincinnati a 33-33 tie. Once the second half got underway, so did Robertson. Although he fell 11 points short of the Madison Square Garden record of 56, which he set himself against Selon Hall last season, Robertson managed to drive the NYU defense silly.
He scored on layups, tap-ins, sets from the side and driving one-handers. He even hit once while almost flat on his back after being jarred by a defender, and the Garden, which was inaugurating its 25th season of collegiate basketball, rang with the cheers of an appreciative crowd.
St. John's Beats Providence
St. John's of New York opened the doubleheader with an easy 73-55 victory over Providence, with Tony Jackson and Al Seiden scoring 48 of the points between them. St. John's led by only six points—36-30—at the half, but pulled away in the second half to win easily.
Francis Saunders' rebound with two seconds left to play earned Seattle a wild 60-58 victory over the University of San Francisco before a crowd of 6,000 in the Dons' new basketball pavilion.
Ron Cox, a Don guard, scored eight points with less than three minutes to play to boost San Francisco into a 58-57 lead, but center John Cunningham fouled Jerry Frizzell as time ran out. Frizzell made good on his first shot for a tie and then Saunders poked in the second when it rolled off the rim.
Elsewhere around the nation, Mississippi State set an all-time school scoring record by burying Union, 121-78; Georgetown abandoned its first half cautiousness to rout Kentucky Wesleyan, 93-73; Georgia Tech scored 13 points in the last three minutes to defeat visiting Baylor, 65-66; Toledo U. handed South Dakota, the NCAA defending small college champions, an 81-70 beating; Furman routed Presbyterian, 82-58; and Boston College upended ancient rival Holy Cross, 72-63.

Hawks Play Romney Cannon Voted Back Of Year In UPI Poll

Fourteen district quintas make their cage debuts tonight while Ridgely's cagers shoot for their second win in as many starts.
The Blackhawks, despite the loss of regular center Mike Detrick with an ankle injury suffered in a pre-season practice, launched the season last Tuesday with a 72-44 thumping of West Virginia Deaf in the Potomac Valley Conference.
The Hawks will meet the expected to be strong Romney Pioneers on the latter's hardwoods tonight's top clash. The Hawks and Pioneers, along with Piedmont and Keyser, are figured to wage a fight for the PVC honors.
Bill Maples, junior forward and an All-State nominee, leads the Pioneers who have a seasoned club returning from the 1957-58 campaign. Bill Scott, husky Ridgely cager, packs the big wallop for the Hawks, scoring 22 points against the West Virginia Deaf quint.
Moorefield will also be making its first start when the Jacks tangle with Wardensville in the other PVC clash billed. The Jiff is also the lidlifter for the Warriors.
Keyser, also setting its sights on another good season, makes its debut by facing the Alumni at home.
A half-dozen other PVC quintas will take the court for the first time in non-league clashes.

Hyndman's dribblers start their season by facing Rockwood (Pa.) High on the Hornets hardwoods.
The city's two public schools, Allegany and Fort Hill, don't see action until next week. The Sentinels, who will be out to defend state A honors along with the WMIL and CVAL crowns under new coach Wayne Boor, open actively next Tuesday at home against Frederick.
Allegany, with Chet Payne beginning his second year, starts things off by facing North Hagerstown at Campobello Wednesday night.
LaSalle got away successfully Wednesday night by whipping Fort Ashby, 71-68. Coach George Gentz' quint plays Valley in Del-mold tomorrow night to help the Black Knights open their season and then tangles with South Hills of Pittsburgh at SS. Peter and Paul Sunday afternoon.

Round Table's Career Will End Next Year

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Round Table, the 1958 "Horse of the Year," will compete in the top races in America in 1959 and then will be retired, owner Travis Kerr said today.
Round Table became the greatest money-winning horse in history during 1958 when he ran his earnings to $1,336,364 as he won 14 out of 20 starts.

Back Of Year In UPI Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Billy Cannon, versatile big guy in the attack of Louisiana State's national champions, who "does everything well," today was college football's "Back of the Year" in a nationwide poll conducted by United Press International.
The LSU triple - threat received the first-place votes of 99 of the 297 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the nation who cast ballots.
That total made him the winner by a wide margin over Army's hard-running Pete Dawkins, who was runner-up with 59 first-place votes, and passing star Randy Duncan of Iowa, who was third with 49 votes. These three candidates together attracted 207 votes and the remaining 90 were scattered among 17 different players with California's Joe Kapp in fourth place at 39 and Dick Bass of College of the Pacific and Bob White of Ohio State tied for a distant fifth at 10.
The "Back of the Year," selection follows Cannon's election to the UPI 1958 All-America team, on which he was the top vote-getter by a slight margin over Dawkins.
This latest honor for the LSU pre-dental student was hailed by Coach Paul Dietzel of the champions as "a wonderful thing."
"It proves my repeated statement that Billy Cannon is the finest football player I've ever coached," said Dietzel. "Last year as a soph he was an outstanding runner, but this year he developed into a tremendous blocker, a fine faker, and an excellent pass receiver."
"In short," said Dietzel, "he does everything well with power and speed."

Silky Resumes Winning Habits

By The Associated Press
Silky Sullivan is up to his old tricks.
The big chestnut colt, who flabbergasted racing fans last spring with his come-from-far behind style of racing and then fizzled in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, returned to competition Thursday and won a 6-furlong race at Tanforan in his usual manner.
Silky, who has had a throat operation and his forelegs fired since winning an allowance race last July 1 at Hollywood Park, started slowly. But he never trailed quite as far back as was his custom last spring, when he won the Santa Anita Derby from 28 lengths back.

Weiss Nixes Prexy Post

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Boston General Manager Joe Cronin retained the inside track for the American League presidency today, particularly since General Manager George Weiss of the Yankees has turned down first crack at the job.
Both Cronin and Weiss were approached by a six-man committee named to recommend a successor to 72-year-old Will Harridge, who resigned at the winter baseball meetings here.
There was no hesitancy by Weiss in politely turning down the offer in favor of remaining with the world champion New York Yankees. He has broad authority in the Yankee system and probably draws about the same pay as he would as league chief.
American League sources said that the offer to Weiss was in some respects a feature of respect to the Yankee general manager's seniority and astuteness rather than a serious effort to deprive Cronin of the job.

Cincy Cagers Cop Lead In Power Index

By DICK DUNKEL

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (Special)—Cincinnati has moved into the No. 1 position in the college basketball rankings after last Monday's opening games.

The Bearcats, No. 2 last year, went ahead of NCAA champion Kentucky on the basis of the season's initial results.

Cincinnati crushed Indiana State, 93-64, by the exact difference in last spring's ratings, thereby retaining its old power index of 81.7.

Kentucky slipped to second, with 80.8, after a 91-68 opening effort against Florida State.

Through Monday, when fewer than half of the major teams had seen action, other top ratings were:

Kansas, 77.6; Temple, 75.3; Kansas State, 74.3; West Virginia, 72.8; Iowa State, 72.1; Northwestern, 70.4; Oregon State, 70.3; Idaho, 69.8; Nebraska, 69.3; N. C. State, 69.3; Miss. State, 68.8; Alabama, 68.4; Iowa, 68.2; Florida, 67.6; Purdue, 67.5; Michigan, 67.2; Texas Tech, 66.8; Ky. Wesleyan, 66.0; and Marshall, 65.5.

Johnson Pacing Dorado Tourney

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—Some of the world's best golfers will try for the second time today in the $30,000 Dorado Beach Invitational Golf Tourney to master a course that was hacked out of a tropical jungle.

In Thursday's first round, only 8 of 42 players could equal or better the 36-72 par of the 7,115 yard layout that hugs the Atlantic Ocean shoreline and wanders through the jungles.

Thursday's play was interrupted by a heavy downpour.

Howie Johnson, a master putter from Glenwood, Ill., gained the first round lead with a two-under-par 70. Only a stroke behind were Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif.; Billy Casper Jr. of Apple Valley, Calif.; Ted Kroll, Sarasota, Fla.; and Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex.

Baylor Will Decide Coach Boyd's Fate

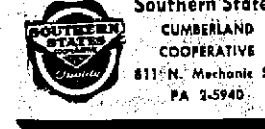

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Sam Boyd, who has coached a last place football team two seasons in a row at Baylor, will learn tonight whether he's wanted any longer.

A meeting of ex-students' trustees and faculty representatives will be held to decide if Boyd's contract, which has a year to run, will be extended.

Athletic Director George Sauer quit Thursday night saying he was entering private business. It was Sauer who stepped down as coach in 1955 and was succeeded by Boyd.

70,000 Fans To See Colts Battle Rams

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Baltimore Colts have clinched the Western Division title of the National Football League and the Los Angeles Rams are definitely in the also-ran class.

Yet 70,000 or more fans are expected to crowd into Memorial Coliseum Saturday to see a game that actually means nothing.

The local heroes have won six games and lost four and are tied with the Chicago Bears for the second spot in the division.

The Col-Ram battle, on Saturday, a departure from the usual Sunday games, was arranged as a national television offering (CBS 1:30 p. m. PST). Los Angeles will be blacked out.

League hostilities otherwise resume Sunday, with the Cleveland Browns favored to retain their one-game lead over the New York Giants in the still-unsettled Eastern Division race.

The Browns play the cellar-bashed Philadelphia Eagles at Philadelphia and the Giants go to Detroit to meet the Lions. Cleveland's record is 8-2, the Giants 7-3.

Other games include the Pittsburgh Steelers at Washington, the Chicago Bear-Cardinal brawl in the Windy City and the Green Bay Packers and the San Francisco 49ers in San Francisco.

'No Let-Down,' States Parker

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Observers feared today that complacency, rather than the Redskins, will be the worst enemy of the Pittsburgh Steelers when they face Washington in Griffith Stadium Sunday.

It was feared that the Steelers, riding the crest of a five-game winning streak, might be on the brink of a let-down.

Not so, said Coach Buddy Parker.

"These fellows are pros and they know that no game is easy in this league," he said.

But by way of taking precautions, Buddy put the Pittsburghers through a rugged wind and rain sweat drill at Pitt Stadium Thursday. Some new additions to the Steelers' offensive repertoire even confused the defensive platoon, bystanders reported.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Dana Mozley of the New York Daily News and Tom Davison of the Houston Post have been named winners of the Burke golf writing competition conducted by the Golf Writers Association. They received cash awards of $200 and a plaque.

Johnny Longden Back Following Broken Leg

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Johnny Longden, the world's winningest jockey, returns to racing today after being laid up with a broken leg since Sept. 7.

Longden, hurt while training a horse at Del Mar, Calif., is riding Royal Reserve in the sixth race at Tanforan. The 48-year-old English born jockey won 5,236 races before Gallant Royal dropped dead during the Del Mar training.

Players Get Brush Off On New Demands

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Fed-up baseball owners wrapped up their annual meetings today by banding together to give major and minor league players an abrupt brush-off in their demands for more money.

The blunt "flat no," couched in no uncertain terms, threatened to create disharmony among major league players and precipitate a possible strike among disgruntled international leaguers.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick added what may have been the last straw when he announced that major league owners had unanimously rejected a request for 20 per cent of the total take from all sources.

Frick said the vote by American and National League managers was a "flat no" to the request by the players.

The International League situation was fraught with much more seriousness because its players threaten to strike unless the owners set aside $237,000 for establishment of a pension plan.

Issues Strong Warning

"Let them do what they want, said adamant Frank Shaugnessy, president of the circuit. "We'll operate next year with or without them. We don't like having a gun put at our backs."

J. Norman Lewis, attorney for the major league player representatives, warned the owners he would not give up his fight.

"We are going to continue our efforts to get an equitable share," he said, pointing out that player salaries and team salaries have dwindled from 44 per cent of the gross receipts to 17 per cent within a 13-year period.

James Durante, who represents the International League along with his law partner, Lewis, issued a much stronger warning.

"The players have signed a resolution not to sign their contracts for 1959, not to report to spring training and not to participate in any International League competition unless their demand is met," Durante declared.

Many Major Developments

Player - owner hostility overshadowed virtually all other matters during the sessions. There were, however, numerous other major developments:

—Will Harridge resigned as American League president after 28 years and Joe Cronin of the Red Sox was prominently mentioned to succeed him.

—The American Association expanded to 10 teams by adding Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas from the Texas League. This might be a forerunner of a possible expansion move to 10 teams by the National and American leagues, which plan to hire a private research organization to explore the possibility.

—A liberalized draft was approved on a one-year trial basis and a plan by the Yankees to re-institute another bonus rule was defeated.

—The majors adopted a new trading rule which will permit interleague deals between Nov. 21 and Dec. 5 without the necessity of obtaining waivers. Frick said he didn't particularly like the idea "at first glance," but added he "could be sold on it."

Knicks Protest Royals' Victory As Clock Goofs

By The Associated Press

Are the Boston Celtics or the New York Knickerbockers in first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn?

The answer is up to League President Maurice Podoloff. He has in his possession a letter protesting Cincinnati's 108-106 victory over New York Wednesday night.

It's being called the mysterious case of the "lost minute" because the Cincinnati timer told the referees the clock had not been functioning properly. He said that it had jumped from 2:00 left to 1:59 instead of 1:58. New York Coach Fuzzy Levane howled.

Officially, Boston's 116-114 victory over Syracuse Thursday night put the Celtics in the top spot with a 13-6 record for .667. The Knicks are a half length behind. But if the Cincinnati setback is thrown out, it would give New York an 11-5 record for .688.

Boston had to put on a last quarter rally to beat the Nationals, who dropped their eighth straight.

In the only other game, the St. Louis Hawks defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 107-92. The triumph increased the Hawks' Western Division lead to four and a half games over Detroit.

The Big Blues took a 40-26 halftime lead over Glenville and had little trouble the rest of the way. James Carter slipped in 20 points, Alvin Lark 16 and Leander Howell 11 for the Blues. Fred Smith and Larry Barker had 16 each for Glenville.

William Galloway scored almost at the final buzzer to give State its triumph over West Liberty. The Hilltoppers took the lead at 59-58 with only six seconds remaining on a free throw by Bob McNabb.

Orlin Jenkins led State with 14 points while Clyde Eads had 23 and McNabb 17 for West Liberty.

When Andy Kerr's "Red Raiders of the Chenango Valley" from Colgate University were astounding the football world with their defensive exploits in the early 1930's Glen S. Peters was a toughie in the center of the line. Colgate was unbeaten, untied, unscored on and "uninvited" to a bowl game in 1932. In three varsity seasons for Peters, Colgate lost only two and tied one. He gained sectional honors in 1933 as a center and closed out his football career in East-West Shrine Game of 1934.

Whatever happened to Glen S. Peters? He now is a lumber and building supplies executive at Buffalo, N.Y.

Cards Swap Moon To LA For Cimoli

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals acquired a new center fielder and hired an "old pro" as their pitching coach on the final day of the annual baseball meetings.

Wally Moon was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers for Gino Cimoli, and Howie Pollet agreed to return to baseball as the Cardinals' pitching coach.

Moon, the National League's rookie of the year in 1954, batted only .238 in 108 games for the Cardinals last season. Cimoli, batting .246 in 109 games.

As part of the deal, the Cardinals turned over Phil Palmo, a pitcher on their Omaha farm club, to the Dodgers. Because the Dodgers have no room on their 40-man roster for Palmo, they assigned the former Milwaukee Braves' pitcher to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League.

Pollet, named to replace Al Hollingsworth on the Cardinals' coaching staff, broke in with St. Louis in 1941 and remained with them for 10 years. He later pitched with the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs before ending his active career in 1956. He has been in the insurance business for the past two years.

Men Nabbed For Having Marijuana

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five men were arrested here yesterday and charged with possession of marijuana.

Police said the men—described as three jockeys, a jockey's agent and a bartender—had been under surveillance after arriving here Monday night from Wheeling Downs Race Track in West Virginia.

Scheduled for a preliminary hearing at Central Police Court today were Louis L. Sawyer, 29, Camden, N. J.; Donald H. Crosser, 25, Evansville, Ind.; Lyman S. Richards, 26, Boston; Vincent Carver, 30, Newport, Ky. and Robert F. Heath, 26, New Orleans.

Capt. Joseph Carroll, head of the narcotics squad, said 2,700 grains of loose marijuana were seized. He said Sawyer, Crosser and Richards were the jockeys. Carver the bartender and Heath the jockey's agent.

Two of the men were arrested in an automobile yesterday morning and the others were picked up later at a hotel room.

Playhouse 90 Drama Termed Another Hit

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—It's a melancholy but inescapable truth that there's only one weekly show left on TV that a viewer past the age of nine can look forward to with any enthusiasm—"Playhouse 90."

The CBS-TV drama show has turned out a couple of clunkers this season, but for the most part its quality has run awesomely high. It's a show that gets intelligent production, deft direction, competent playing and most important, scripts of substance. It is, as someone once said in another context, the only wheel in town.

Thursday night "Playhouse 90" turned to Steven Gethers' "Free Weekend," a play about the competition for honors at a summer camp. Stripped to its essentials, it was, quite simply, a war play—a 90-minute survey of a three-cornered war between parents, counselors and children and more, of war within the ranks of each of these groups.

The premise of the play was a bit difficult to accept—the maniacal covetousness of parents in the honors competition—but then I suppose people have questioned and fought over stranger things.

However, the play did have more serious faults. For one thing, many of its characters leered on the edge of cliché: The gentle grocer and his patient wife, the neurotic wife and her weaking husband, last train between Portland and Weymouth ran six years ago. He then called police who arrested Dowling.

of their relationships seemed ill-defined.

Despite all this I rather enjoyed the play. Some of the individual scenes stacked up as marvelous caricatures of summer camp life—the enforced activities, the nervous hubba-hubba atmosphere, the sweet-sour lies between kids and counselors.

And the acting, almost all of it, was fine. I liked particularly Charles Bickford as the camp director—aspiring, exacting, with a large touch of weariness. Kim Hunter, James Whitmore, Nina Foch, Jim Backus, Buddy Ebsen and Jack Albertson also were on board to good effect.

Short Shots: ABC-TV's "Leave It To Beaver" had a flutty sound track Thursday night, but a fairly pleasant story. . . . Walter Pidgeon threw himself away on a CBS-TV "Zane Grey Theatre" that centered around a shoot-down between a bad gun-toter and a good blind man—naturally, the blind man won. . . . NBC-TV's "Ed Wynn Show" hit bottom Thursday night—its writers seem to have lost all touch with life.

The Channel Swim: "My Three Angels," originally set as an NBC-TV special for March 16, has been cancelled. In its place, a filmed variety show with Frances Langford as emcee will be shown. Bob Hope, Edgar Bergen, Julie London and Hugh O'Brian will guest.

CBS-TV is preparing a new half-hour filmed drama series, "I," for a start in February. Three shows, with Charles Bickford, Basil Rathbone and Arthur Kennedy as the stars of each, are in the can. This week, they're shooting a fourth episode at Staunton, Va.; next week, a fifth show will be filmed in West Virginia.

"Law Gun," a Western bowing in at NBC-TV on Jan. 10 has had its little changed to "Black Saddle." "Brains and Brawn," getting the ax at NBC-TV in January, probably will return to TV as a summer replacement in a low-budget version.

Ingrid Bergman will appear on film on the Dec. 14 NBC-TV "Steve Allen Show." . . . The latest Nielsen ratings for Great Britain show "Doll" in the number one spot, "Wagon Train" number two and "Twenty One" number nine.

Buyers Don't Believe Economists On Prices

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Belief that prices will rise again seems firmly entrenched in the public mind today.

Economists can point out many reasons why prices needn't rise. They can cite the excess of supplies and of production capacity. They can quote statistics that seem to show that the cost of living has leveled off and isn't expected to go up again for the next few months.

But many consumers just don't believe them. Why? Partly because the economists haven't been too correct about price trends in the past — prices didn't fall during the recession as expected by both the public and economic theorists.

Partly because many households know that statistics or no statistics, the bills seem to go on mounting. And partly because the trend in basic commodity prices is one thing, but the trend in labor costs is another — and this often more than offsets any price drop in raw materials.

The evidence that expectation of higher prices is widespread despite the easing of inflation fears among the economists and the financial leaders comes today from two sources:

The Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan says that in October twice as many consumers believed in coming price rises as did in the spring.

Finance company executives are predicting further rises in installment credit now that the auto dealers are getting deliveries of new cars.

The cause against further inflation just now, however, is a strong one. As a whole, basic commodities have shown either price stability or weakness.

The recovery in industrial activity didn't lead to any rush to stock up on raw materials as it often had in the past. Rather, until just recently manufacturers continued to pare their inventories.

The wage increases in the auto industry left their marks on car prices.

Political Pot Boils In Baltimore Parties

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. McKeldin and State's Atty. J. Harold Grady have gotten some apparently unsolicited backing for mayoral or gubernatorial bids from spokesmen in their respective parties.

And in Mayor D'Alesandro's home First District last night, more than 30 Democratic leaders adopted a resolution urging him to seek a fourth term. Most observers think he will file for the March 3 primary.

Del. Samuel A. Culotta, Republican who was defeated a month ago trying for a State Senate seat, urged the GOP governor to announce as a candidate.

Culotta said his party is looking to McKeldin "to supply the leadership we need."

The governor has hinted that he may file for the nomination in the primary next March. Filing deadline is Dec. 23.

McKeldin, who was not eligible to run for a third straight term as governor, leaves the State House in January.

An aide to the governor said there would be no comment the rest of this week or during the weekend on the possibility of his filing.

McKeldin was mayor here 1943-47.

Meanwhile, an anti-McKeldin element tried to whip up a bit of opposition. John H. McFaul, president of the Maryland Federation of Republicans, a small organization, wrote a letter to Louis R. Milio urging him to run for mayor.

Milio lost the nomination for mayor in 1955.

McFaul's letter left no doubt about his feelings regarding McKeldin. It said: "McKeldin will never again obtain the support of this organization. If we can't beat him in the primary, the welfare of our party demands his defeat in the general election."

Several Baltimore Democrats announced yesterday they had formed an organization backing Grady, a former FBI man, for the nomination.

He is under appointment of the Foreign Missions Department of the Assemblies of God Churches and has served as pastor and superintendent of a branch of the Assemblies of God.

Rev. Stawinski, his wife, and two daughters will return to Paraguay soon.

Judges Urged To Clear Up Case Backlog

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland judges have been "old they're doing a pretty good job of not letting cases lag too long before trial, but they're urged to clear some of the dead wood in public records."

Frederick W. Invernizzi, administrator of Maryland courts, urged judges to get rid of obsolete records and said this assumes "a certain firmness on the part of judges" when lawyers come before them for postponements and delays of cases.

Invernizzi spoke at the 14th Maryland Judicial Conference yesterday. Today the group of lawyers and judges will debate proposed moves to change the appeals system and create an intermediate court of appeals.

In the language of the timberman, softwoods are trees that bear cones; hardwoods are trees that wear broad, deciduous leaves.

Coin Club To Hold Meeting Wednesday
The Western Maryland Coin Club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the City Hall. In addition to the usual coin exchange and auction, there will be an exchange of gifts.

Each member is expected to bring a gift-wrapped coin, which will be placed in a bag. Members will select their gifts as numbers are called.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find your outlook for the year, according to the stars.

For Saturday, December 6, 1936

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Work is on your schedule today, take things philosophically and you will succeed. You should do equally well at laborious tasks or handling delicate matters. Outdoor interests also favored.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Don't force matters; let all things develop and resolve themselves in an orderly manner. Don't worry; you don't achieve big gains immediately. Slow but sure progress is often best.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—A good day for good deeds and well done work. Generous influences for many lines of industry, outdoor work, sports, intellectual activities, any activity requiring skill and dexterity.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer)—Good Moon influences. You can gain if you have a lot of speculation. Especially favored: scientific pursuits, inventions, creative work of any kind.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo)—Favorable aspects favor recreational activities, the arts, benefits for charitable causes, sports. Personal relations improve, especially with relatives.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo)—While going about duties keep looking for better openings and means of support may come from unexpected sources. Be receptive to worthwhile suggestions.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra)—Great progress will come through familiar activities than new or uncertain, though big-sounding ventures. Clear cooperation with others will pay common sense will pay off now.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio)—A grand time for outdoor sports, necessary tasks, reading, mental social pleasures, also favored.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—Fine Jupiter vibrations from which you can gain inspiration and the impetus to go ahead in your schedule, perhaps add to income or other assets. Be happy; don't fear competition.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—By using tact and not worrying, you can make this day a highly advantageous one. Good results are promised for like efforts. Join others in healthful recreation, sports, hobbies.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius)—This should be a most encouraging, busy day—particularly if you exercise your fine talents and those of the intellect of others as you improve and advance. Your best!

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—An important period. You can be in the swing of things—or null. Show your versatility, your talents and your good humor. Be creative in handling, chemistry, etc. Liquids generally are in confidential matters.

YOU BORN TODAY have splendid faculties for research and invention, putting things generally in their proper places. You also have a genial disposition, fondness for home and family and a liking for knowledge and interesting people and places. You dislike dishonesty, tricky ways of doing things.

Quintuple Coup Makes Seven

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Gordon Keel of Vancouver writes: "I enjoyed the triple coup in your column recently. I have seen several of them but just yesterday I ran into the first quintuple coup that I have ever seen or heard of."

"I opened three spades and my partner raised me to seven. Who could blame him? I could the moment dummy showed up with that singleton queen of spades! Anyway, there I was at 40,000 feet—I mean at seven spades. "West opened the king of hearts. Normal enough but the lead of any other side suit would have beaten me. I ruffed and led a diamond to dummy. The queen of spades was led next. East played low and West had to drop his singleton jack. "Now the coup was there if East had to follow to three diamonds and two clubs. I ruffed a heart, returned to dummy with a second diamond and so on ruffing hearts until eventually I was down to my last two trumps and back in dummy. "East had been following suit like a little soldier. Now he was down to two trumps and had to ruff the sixth heart. I overruffed and that was all."

Very nice indeed! In fact almost too good to be true.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West

1 ♠ 1 ♥ ?

You, South, hold:

♠ 10 9 8 5 4 ♠ A K 5 4 2 ♠ K 10 8

What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. You have 10 points and a good five-card diamond suit but your hand is too weak for anything except the club raise.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues with a bid of three clubs. What do you do?
